NAVAL BATTLE WAS FOUGHT

Between the Russians and the Japs.

TOGO WAS VICTOR

Held the Straits of Tsu Sima Against the Attack Made by Russians Under Rojestvensky.

THE RUSSIANS LOST HEAVILY.

According to the latest information the battle between the Russian and Japanese naval forces for the supremacy of the Oriental seas, on which hangs the outcome of the Far eastern struggle, has begun, if it has not terminated decisively. The despatch received by the Associated Press point to a Japanese victory, though it is not yet known whether the full force of Vice Admiral Rojestvensky's fighting ships took part in the contest which, according to the despatches, took place in the comparatively narrow waters of the Strait of Corea. The first information came in a despatch from the American consul at Nagasaki to the state department at Washington, telling that Japan had sunk one Russian battleship, four other warships and a repair ship in the Corean Strait and this was followed by a despatch received by the state department, the date of which was not given, that the "Japanese government had made the announcement that its fleet had engaged the Russians in the Strait of Corea Saturday and had held them." The state department also issued information that the two vessels reported to have been sunk were sister ships Orel and Borodino, and that three of the other ships were cruisers. From Tsingtau, the German point on the Shangtung Peninsula, report that a running naval engage took place near the island of Oki in the sea of Japan two hundred miles north of the Strait of Corea and that the whole Russian fleet did not participate, the slow vessels being sent around Japan. Russian sources give no news, but, while the Japanese government is silent to either the battle or its outcome.

Washington, May 29.—The American consul at Nagasaki cabled the state department yesterday that the Japanese have sunk a Russian battleship, four other warships and repair ships in the Straits of Corea.

The following is the text of the Nagasaki despatch to the state department:

"Nagasaki, May 29.—Japanese sunk the Russian battleship Borodino and four more warships and a repair ship."

The other despatch read as follows:

"Tokio, May 29.—Japanese fleet engaged the Baltic squadron Saturday afternoon in the Straits of Tsu Sima, which was held. Cannonading heard from shore."

Japanese Minister Takahira has received a despatch from Tokio saying in effect that the fighting the naval battle thus far has been with favorable prospects to the Japanese. The minister's dispatch is from private sources.

Washington, May 29.—Confirmation has been received from Shanghai of the press report that Russian warships have sunk an unknown American merchant ship off the Chinese coast. Heavy gun fire is plainly heard to the northward.

The Pennsylvania State College Agricultural Experiment Station.

The report of the Pennsylvania Station for 1903-4 is just being distributed, the printing of it having been seriously delayed. The report contains a full account of the work of the year. As of special interest may be noted the experiments upon the growth of Sumatra tobacco under shade, which are quite fully illustrated, the tests of varieties of wheat, oats and potatoes, the experiments upon the use of green forage crops for dairy cows and those upon the value of shelter for fattening cattle. Interesting results were also obtained in the spraying of grapes for black rot. The report of the Director calls special attention to the need of increased funds for the station work, a need now partially supplied by the action of the Legislature appropriating $10,000 for two years for the maintenance of the Station.

The report will be sent free of charge to residents of the State, as far as the limited supply available permits.

THE JUNIOR ORATORICALS:

Held by the Class of 1906 in Petrikin Hall on Monday Night.

Petrikin hall was crowded on Monday evening to listen to the annual contest of the Junior class of the Bellefonte High school for the Reynolds prize. Every seat was occupied and standing room was at a premium.

When the curtains rolled back at 8.15 a very pretty stage picture was disclosed. Seated in a semi-circle were the young contestants ten in number. At the right of the stage was seated the principal of the High school, Prof. John D. Meyer, and beside him Rev. A. Davidson, pastor of the United Brethren church.

The stage and auditorium were handsomely decorated with flags, bunting, etc. The class colors were gracefully intermingled with the High school and National colors. On the stage were potted plants and flowers gracefully arranged. Over the front of the stage were the colors of the class of 1906, gold and gray.

The exercises of the evening were opened with prayer by Rev. Davidson, after which Prof. Meyer introduced the different speakers of the evening. It would take too long to go into details in regard to each speaker but suffice it is to say that each and everyone acquitted themselves well, and it was a difficult task for the judges to decide between them.

The judges on this occasion were Prof. Morris D. High, of the Lock Haven Normal; Dr. Francis C. Smith, of the Bellefonte Academy, and Prof. John H. Trizzell, of Pennsylvania State College. At the close of the exercises the judges retired and while Prof. Christy Smith's orchestra rendered some delightful music decided who should receive the prizes. In a short time they returned and Prof. Trizzell, of State College, ascended the platform and announced their decision. The first prize was awarded to Thomas G. Haugh, of Scotia, and the second to Miss Mildred H. Ogden, of Bellefonte.

The prizes are ten and five dollars respectfully and are the gift of Col. W. Fred Reynolds.

Handsome Gift to Past Grand.

T. C. Hipple Esq., Past Grand Commander of Hospitaller Commandery Knights Templar, who so ably looked after the comforts of the order and auxiliary, on their recent visit to Williamsport, was presented with some handsome cut glass, on Tuesday evening, by members of the party. This was in appreciation of his interest in their welfare and comfort, and it is needless to say the recipient is deeply grateful, though he was thoroughly surprised.

VICIOUS FIGHTS IN CHICAGO!

A Number Occurred in the Lumber District

MANY WAGONS STONED

One Policeman when Situation Became Serious Discharged His Revolver and the Crowd fled.

STRIKE SPREADS IN SMALL DEGREE.

Chicago, May 27.—Rioting broke out afresh yesterday in the teamsters' strike. Although nobody was seriously hurt, there were a number of vicious fights in the lumber districts, during which the police were obliged to use their clubs to disperse the crowds.

The worst fight in the lumber yards occurred at West Twenty-second street and Ashland avenue, where a crowd of men and boys hurled stones and clubs at every passing lumber wagon. Finally a wagon on which Policeman Bagensti was a passenger came along and the mob greeted it with the usual volley of stones. They also threatened to attack the driver and the situation was so serious that the officer, drawing a revolver, fired six shots at the crowd, which fled in confusion. None of the bullets hit anybody.

The strike yesterday spread in a small degree throughout the building trades. In a number of instances woodworkers refused to receive the material delivered by non union teamsters and walked out. This move in every instance was made by the men as individuals only. There was no official action taken by any of the material trade unions looking to active sympathy support of the teamsters' strike.

Several of the labor leaders in the ranks of the material trades have declared within the last twelve hours that there is no prospect in their opinion of any complete tieup of the building trades by a strike. There is no movement on foot at present looking toward a settlement of the strike. Mayor Dunne yesterday for the first time since the commencement of the teamsters' strike declared that he knew of no contemplated plans for peace. The mayor talked as though he had abandoned the hope of any settlement at this time.

The lumbermen whose drivers have left their wagons insisted Friday morning upon more policemen being sent with their teams and demanded that their yards be more effectively patrolled day and night. Attorney Victor Sincere, of the Associated Lumbermen, declares that at least 2,000 more officers are needed to protect the extensive piles of timber from incendiaries.

In anticipation of trouble in the lumber district the mayor instructed Chief of Police O'Neill to close all saloons there between the hours of 1 and 7 p. m. in cases where crowds were permitted to gather inside or outside the premises.

In preparation for a protracted strike siege the teamsters' joint council has arranged to send agents to all parts of the country for the purpose of gathering funds. It is the ambition of strike leaders to raise $1,000,000 by July 1.

Solicitors probably will start from Chicago next week on their mission. They will visit every local union in the United States and in addition to urging financial assistance will strive to arouse organized labor to sympathize with the present struggle.

Serious Accident.

Mrs. Samuel Klinefelter, of near Centre Hall, was seriously injured Sunday evening, May 21st, by being thrown from a spring wagon on her way home from services at Zion church, above Tusseyville. While in the neighborhood of McClellans, at Tussey sink school house, the horses took fright and began running, and the driver, Fred Klinefelter, lost control of them. At or near the turn, at the school house, the occupants were thrown from the wagon, Mrs. Klinefelter received a deep gash on her head and was otherwise injured. Miss Viola Bubb was rendered unconscious, but was not seriously hurt. Miss Maude Klinefelter and the driver escaped injury.

The horses broke loose from the wagon and in their mad flight one of them was killed.

Dr. George Lee, the attending physician, reports Mrs. Klinefelter as getting along very well considering the seriousness of her injuries.

DR. MOFFAT ELECTED MODERATOR.

A Pennsylvanian at the Head of Presbyterian General Assembly.

The meeting of Presbyterian General Assembly at Winona Lake, Indiana, was begun by a sermon by the retiring moderator, Dr. Henry, on "Son, go work today in my vineyard."

Dr. James D. Moffat, president of Washington & Jefferson College, Washington, Pa., was by acclamation unanimously chosen moderator. Justice Harlan, of the U. S. Supreme Court, was appointed vice-moderator.

The report of the Sabbath observance committee showed that railroad men and labor unions are interested in preserving a day of rest. Justice Harlan made it very clear that it was the duty of State Legislatures to sustain Christian sentiment and preserve the Christian Sabbath. He intimated very plainly that the Supreme Court would stand for such legislation.

Justice Harlan pleaded for the Sabbath as the poor man's day of rest, and deplored the tendency to imitate foreign custom, and make the Sabbath the great day for receptions and dinners. He declared that railroads and rich persons had no right to rob the laboring classes of their appointed day of rest.

The Evangelistic committee, under whose auspices several of the larger cities have had great revivals, was unanimously continued. Thus the Assembly showed its great desire to arouse the whole church to greater interest and zeal for the conversion of men.

Dr. Agnew, secretary of the Board of Ministerial Relief, made an earnest plea for more generous support of aged and disabled ministers and their dependent families.

On Sunday Dr. Moffat preached on John Knox, the 21st of May being observed pretty generally by Presbyterians as the 400th anniversary of the birth of the reformer. The Moderator took occasion to express the hope that his church and the United Presbyterians might be able to unite before a great while.

Without a speech and without a dissenting vote the Assembly took the next step towards consummating the union with the Cumberland church and appointed a committee of twenty-one to arrange details.

Hat Pin Betrayed Her Sex.

Margaret Louise Lockhart, 17 years old, daughter of a coal mine superintendent in Grove City, was arrested Saturday night while masquerading as a boy.

The girl has seven brothers and told the police she envied them. A month ago she secured $10 from one of them and started out to make her way in the world, intending to go to California to relatives. In Pittsburg she secured employment, and Saturday, having saved some money, she dressed herself as a young man, and at midnight tried to buy a ticket for Wheeling. The station agent noticed that she had a hat pin through her boy's cap, and when she drew a little handkerchief from a vest pocket he felt sure she was a girl.

On her way out of the station, when accosted by a policeman, she again drew a handkerchief from a vest pocket. The policeman was then also convinced of the sex, and arrested her. At Central station the girl told her story while the matron found skirts for her.

Practical Joke Stumped Him.

A young married woman of Williamsport recently gave birth to a nice fat boy babe. The young father was informed of his good fortune and hastened to the hospital to see mother and child, but nearly fainted when he beheld not one babe but two in bed with the young mother and that one of them was black. He received with disgust the congratulations of nurse and physician, but before the disappointed father quite succumbed he was informed the colored babe was only a borrowed one and the whole thing a joke. His acceptance of the explanation was more forcible than elegant and would hardly look well in print.

Death of Mrs. Seville Huey.

Mrs. Seville Huey wife of Augustus Huey died at her home in Vintondale, Cambria county, Sunday morning at 6:30 of a complication of diseases. Her maiden name was Miss Seville Campbell and she was born in Northumberland county, 56 years ago.

She is survived by her husband and the following children: W. E. of Johnstown; Clarence, Mrs. Nora Davis, Marian, Alberta and Merril of Vintondale, Pa.

The remains were taken to Coburn, Centre county, Wednesday for interment.

GRAVES OF HEROIC DEAD

Memorial Day as Observed in Bellefonte.

RAIN SPOILS PARADE

Exercises Were Held at Cemetery and Court House—W. Harrison Walker Esq., and Col. J. L. Spangler, Orators of the Day.

THE DAY PASSED OFF VERY QUIETLY

The Memorial Day celebrations Tuesday passed off quietly. The forty years which have elapsed since the close of the war have wrought many changes. The young men of '65 are no longer young and the old men of that day are no longer with us. There is no more pathetic spectacle of the year than the annual Memorial Day parade with its ever thinning ranks of men who wore the blue, and Tuesday this was brought forcibly home to those who saw the members of the Grand Army march past.

Time was when the number of old soldiers in line was numbered by hundreds and they kept their lines straight and marched with the old swinging step but now they are a mere handful as they take their places in line to do honor to those who have already crossed the dark river upon whose brink they stand, not knowing who will be the next to cross to the other side or how soon the call may come. Many a silent tear was shed as the decimated ranks of this Post marched by for since last Memorial Day, more than one of its brave members has answered the last bugle call and lies sleeping in some silent city of the dead.

The exercises in Bellefonte which were under the auspices of Gregg Post No. 95 G. A. R., were somewhat marred, owing to the heavy rain which fell most of the afternoon. Commander W. H. Musser had arranged a very fine parade which was to form in the Diamond and march through the principal streets to the cemetery. The Coleville band, Company B, Gregg Post, Logan Fire Company, Undine Fire Company and several hundred school children were lined up ready to participate. But the heavy rain compelled a change of program. The parade was dismissed and after decorating the soldiers graves in the cemetery the exercises were held in the Court House.

The Court house was crowded and the meeting was quite interesting. Commander Musser was the presiding officer. A choir of ladies and gentlemen sang several appropriate selections. There was a prayer by the Chaplain James Harris. W. Harrison Walker delivered an eloquent Memorial day address which was highly appreciated by all present. He is one of our best orators and is always in demand on occasions of this kind.

Lincoln's address at Gettysburg was delivered in an excellent manner by James Shook who was heartily applauded for his efforts.

Col. J. L. Spangler, who had been selected to speak at the grave of Andrew G. Curtin was the last speaker. He delivered a most interesting address. He paid a just tribute to the late War Governor and also took occasion to eulogize Mayor Weaver, President Roosevelt and Gov. Folk. It was a good practical, eloquent address.

The meeting was then brought to a close by the benediction pronounced by Rev. J. E. Morris, pastor of the A. M. E., church of this place.

The graves of the dead in the different cemeteries were literally covered with beautiful flowers. The Union cemetery never looked more beautiful than it did on Tuesday and the wonder was where so many flowers came from at this season of the year.

Lutheran Church.

Rev. L. L Seiber, D. D., of Gettysburg, will again return and occupy the pulpit of Lutheran church Sunday morning and evening June 4th. The congregation was so well pleased with his services and have invited him to return. All members of the church should be present at these services. The public are also invited to come.

—The memorial service for Mrs. William Love will be preached by Rev. A. Davidson next Sunday morning at 10:30 o'clock in the United Brethren church.

MEETING OF CONFERENCE.

Sessions Opened Monday—Twelve Ministers in Attendance.

The semi-annual meeting of the Northern Conference of the Central Pennsylvania Synod was held in St. Luke's Evangelical Lutheran church, Centre Hall, May 22-24. The territory of conference embraces Union, Clinton and Centre counties. There are fifteen pastorates in the conference. Twelve ministers were present at the opening. The absentees were Dr. H. C. Holloway Bellefonte, and Rev. M. O. Puhl, Germania.

The following lay delegates, representing the various pastorates, were present: Benjamin Limbert, Rebersburg; Isaac Stover, Nittany; Wallace Ilgen, Sugar Valley; James L. Miller, Mifflinburg; J. D. Wagner, Centre Hall; Geo. Dale, Boalsburg.

The opening sermon was preached Monday evening by Rev. W. H. Schoch from the text found in Lamentations 3 25.

Tuesday morning the session opened with a half hour devotional service, conducted by Rev. H. C. Bixler. One hour was devoted to organization, enrollment of delegates and business.

The regular program was opened at ten o'clock by an able discussion on the eighth article of the Augsburg Confession—"What the Church is," by Rev. C. L. McConnell. The second subject—"The Test of Divine Guidance," was opened by Rev. G. C. H. Hasskarl, Ph. D. A number of the ministers participated in the discussion of these subjects.

Rev. McConnell set forth the divine origin of the church, the efficiency of the means of grace. Rev. C. T. Aikens followed with a practical and forceful discussion of the same subject.

Rev. J. W. Boal, D. D., and Rev. W. H. Schuyler, Ph. D., of the Presbyterian church, also Rev. D. Gress, of the Reformed church, were introduced and invited to a seat.

Dr. Boal was asked to speak on the second subject, and did so, to the great pleasure of conference.

The president announced the various committees and the morning session closed with prayer by Rev. Aikens.

Tuesday afternoon session opened with business of the conference, followed by a discussion of the subject, "Sin" under three heads—"What it is," by Rev. B. B. Uhl and Rev. F. Aurand; "The Christian attitude toward sin," by Rev. W. H. Schoch; "How to overcome sin," by Rev. H. C. Bixler. These excellent papers provoked a general discussion which furnished much food for thought. The chief difficulty was the absence, as usual, of those to whom such subject is especially applicable.

The afternoon session closed with prayer by Dr. Boal.

The sermon Tuesday evening was delivered by Rev. L. N. Fleck. Rev. C. L. McConnell and Rev. F. Aurand assisted in the exercises.

Tenth Infantry at Centennial.

Portland, May 29.—Companies I and K of the Tenth United States Infantry, under the command of Captains Gowen and Ingram, are quartered in a military camp on the peninsula at the Lewis and Clark centennial fair, where they will remain during the Exposition period as guards for the United States government buildings. The command, which consists of five officers and one hundred and eighteen enlisted men, recently from the Philippine Islands, where they were on active duty for a number of years. Previous to their departure for Portland, they were quartered at the Presidio, in San Francisco.

The military camp will give to persons unfamiliar with the United States army an idea as to what a typical soldier's camp is like. The regulation conical tents are used. A large mess tent has been erected which accommodates all the men at one time. Shower baths and various sanitary appliances have been installed.

Aside from guarding the government's property and preserving order on the peninsula, the command will give exhibition drills daily.

Col. Woodward Hurt.

On Wednesday morning while the Hon. John A. Woodward was driving to town he met with what might have been a serious accident. He was driving along near the Tipton barn, when his horse became unmanageable and run off throwing him out of the buggy. Mr. Woodward was badly bruised up, but we are glad to say that no bones were broken, and hope for him a speedy recovery.—Howard Hustler.

A HISTORY OF THE EQUITABLE.

How the Control can be Transferred from Stockholders to Policyholders.

NEW YORK, May 25, (Special).—Through a lack of knowledge of the unusual charter of The Equitable, much confusion and misunderstanding has arisen as to how its control can be justly transferred from its Stockholders to its Policyholders.

Through a lack of knowledge of the unusual charter of The Equitable much confusion and misunderstanding has arisen as to how its control can be justly transferred from its Stockholders to its Policyholders.

The Equitable was organized July 26, 1859, under the laws of the State of New York, which required (Chapter 463 Laws of 1853,) incorporators of any life insurance company to deposit with the Comptroller of the State a minimum capital of $100,000 FOR THE PROTECTION OF POLICYHOLDERS; the obvious purpose being to prevent irresponsible persons from starting such enterprises with no substantial backing. This sum was raised by its founder, Henry B. Hyde, with great difficulty owing to the fact that on April 26th, three months before its organization, he plainly informed the projectors "that the Society intends to pay only 7 per cent. per annum, the legal rate in the State of New York, this being the interest that the money may earn when invested, and all profits arising from the business of the company are to go to the credit of the assured, thus making the Association purely mutual." In the biography of Mr. Hyde published by the Equitable in 1901, page 26, it was said: "The difficulty experienced in raising the capital for the Society was mainly due to the fact that it DIFFERED FROM THE CAPITAL OF ANY OTHER CLASS OF CORPORATIONS. IT WOULD BE EXPOSED TO LOSSES, AND IT WAS BARRED BY THE PROPOSED CHARTER OF THE SOCIETY FROM ALL PROFITS save the legal rate of interest."

Mr. Hyde's difficulties in raising this capital for an enterprise in the profits of which it could not share are described in the succeeding pages of his biography. An early incident in the Society's history is also given, where the incorporators desired to amend the charter so as to enable them to draw ten per cent. instead of seven. Mr. Henry B. Hyde notified the subscribers' that even so slight an encroachment by the Stockholders upon the profits of the Policyholders would greatly imperil the advantages of a mutual company, boldly saying to the subscribers to his infant enterprise: "Gentlemen, I have made up my mind that this company, shall be a purely mutual company and if this provision limiting the dividends on the capital to legal interest is not put into the charter. I will take my hat and walk out of the room, and shall have nothing further to do with the enterprise."

This fundamental principle was therefore incorporated in the original charter, as follows:

"The insurance business of the Society shall be conducted upon the mutual plan."

"The holders of the capital stock may receive a semi-annual dividend on the stock so held by them, not to exceed three and one-half per cent. of the same."

From that day to this, during the forty-five years of its history, every official utterance of the Society on tha subject, every statement of its position in all court proceedings, particularly the oase of Greeff vs. The Equitable (160 N. Y. Rep. 19) every declaration as to its organization made before foreign government; its innumerable sworn annual reports to the States in which it does business; its numerous statements under oath to various departments. legislative. policyholders, and other examining committees; its very policy contracts—all have been to the effect that the Society is a mutual company and establish beyond any question the fact that it has never been contemplated by our incorporators or officers that this Society could by any possibility be anything but a mutual company as far as the rights of Policyholders to all of its earnings and surplus are concerned.

A clause was also incorporated in the charter, authorizing the Board to extend to Policyholders the right to vote at the annual election for Directors.

There being no Policyholders it was proper and natural that the fifty-two men, among whom the stock was well distributed. who had deposited the money necessary to start the Society, with no chance of profit above legal interest, and who were persons of eminence and standing, should have become the first Board of Directors. The names of the ORIGINAL DIRECTORS WERE THEREFORE IDENTICAL WITH THE ACTUAL OWNERS OF THE STOCK. It was also natural that this method of naming Directors by the Stockholders should be continued until, as was contemplated in the charter, such time as the interests of the Policyholders should become paramount and receive representation on the Board.

The Stockholders of the Society became during the course of years of successful management trustees of an enormous fund. But for over forty years the idea that this trusteeship was of any large financial value to these trustees, or that the society might be managed for the benefit of any other than its Policyholders, never seriously appeared. This is evidenced by the fact that during that period the stock never fully commanded any higher price than would be a perpetual, absolutely safe 7 per cent. gold investment.

The management of the Society was, moreover, so remarkably able and the trusteeship so faithfully administered FOR THE POLICYHOLDERS that no necessity for extending to them participation in its management was until recently apparent. Of late, however, the stock, at first widely scattered among its fifty-two Directors, has by purchase or otherwise been largely acquired by one person and who now owns or controls at least seventy per cent. thereof.

In addition to the charter provisions contemplating mutualization of The Equitable, the laws of the State of New York (L1892 ch. 690. Sections 70 and 52,) have expressly provided that any domestic insurance company previously organized in that state may by a majority of its DIRECTORS amend its charter, so that the Directors shall be elected by Policyholders, instead of by Stockholders, upon obtaining the consent of the Superintendent of Insurance thereto in writing. Such action has been taken and the privilege of voting in the election of Directors extended to Policyholders, as in the case of The Germania Life Insurance Company, organized in 1860 under the identical law under which The Equitable was incorporated, its charter thus amended having been approved by the then Attorney General of New York, May 29th, 1901.

It is, therefore, plain that the position and rights of Stockholders of The Equitable differ from those of Stockholders in general. In almost every other institution the stockholders have vested rights in the earnings and surplus of the corporation owned by themselves. In The Equitable these rights are vested in the Policyholders, the beneficial owners of its assets. Therefore the extension to Policyholders of the right originally contemplated in the charter and provided for by the laws of the state, to vote for the Directors who shall manage the $413,600,000, of which all but $100,000 belongs to themselves, could not be legitimately objected to as injuring any rights of the Stockholders.

What would be thought, for instance of seven trustees of some Carnegie trust fund who would object to the increase of their number to fifteen, on the ground that although their direct individual compensation would not thereby be affected, their "vested rights" and indirect profits arising from their control of this trust would be damaged? What suspicions would be aroused by the claim of a trustee of a lage estate, under a will at a fixed compensation, th at co-trustees aided by the court at the request of the beneficiaries would impair his "vested right?"

In short the RIGHTS of the Stockholders of The Equitable are:

(a) That their principal of $100,000 be secured.

(b) That seven per cent. interest be paid them thereon.

It can hardly be seriously claimed that the proposed change could result in any loss to Stockholders of their invested principal or any reduction of the legal and proper dividend of seven per cent. per annum.

It is the OBLIGATION and DUTY of the Stockholders to name the Directors who shall appoint the officers and manage the assetts and affairs of The Equitable for the EXCLUSIVE BENEFIT OF ITS POLICYHOLDERS. If any Stockholders themselves accept positions as Directors or Officers, they thereby assume greater responsibilities and obligations to carry out in letter and spirit the charter and all other obligations of the Society to the end that its management shall be absolutely and solely in the interests of the Policyholders and without taint of self interest on the part of any Officer or Director.

Is there connected with the exercisee of these duties any privilege of using the Society's funds to personal advantage? Are the other perquisites of such value that the sharing of these functions with the Policyholders would cause loss and damage to the interests of the Stockholders? Such a position is as astounding as it is untenable.

Indeed, if it is even claimed that the transferring of the control of the Society to its Policyholders would involve to the Stockholders any serious financial loss or damage, or would deprive them of any advantages or emoluments growing out of their position as Stockholders, Directors or Officers—practically Trustees for the Policyholders—such claim would be an admission of an unauthorized and illegal profit unwarranted by their trusteeship, and therefore, in itself constitute a most forcible argument for its termination.

Fortunately, in the case of The Equitable, the question is not seriously raised by those affected. The Directors have unanimously and with the consent of the owner of the majority of the stock decided to mutualize the Society. The amended charter giving the Policyholders the right to elect a majority of the Directors, thus giving them control of The Equitable, has been adopted, awaiting only the formal approval of the Superintendent of Insurance to become immediately effective, and he has officially announced that he favors the change. Although temporarily delayed by litigation by a few minority Stockholders, as not unusual in the case of corporate changes, mutualization to this extent must be accomplished. Complete and immediate mutualization, however, instead of this partial form, is now required as the only measure that will meet the unqualified approval of public sentiment, so thoroughly aroused by existing conditions and fully satisfy present prospective Policyholders.

A LESSON IN GRACE.

"Grace," says a young woman who devotes much of her time to coaching fashionable folk in the art, "is not so much a heaven born blessing as it is a matter of hard, persistent work. Not every one is the possessor of a pretty face nor great riches, which, like charity, cover a multitude of deficiencies, but most of us can do something in the way of improving the figure and can learn to move a bit more gracefully—not at a single bound, but with hard, persistent work and close attention to details and constant practice of correct movements."

There is much less of the "fad" idea and more practical common sense in the foundation principle of Delsarte's method than is to be found in a whole volume of certain physical culture gibberish, say the experts.

"Strength at the center and freedom at the extremities," reads this law, and there is the secret of that illusive, baffling, fascinating charm called "grace." Move the arms, the feet, the head and allow the rest of the body to remain reasonably motionless—motionless, but not rigid. Freedom does not mean "laxity," but "directed ease." It may be acquired only by making "easy motion" a habit.

Hold the arms bent at the elbows, close to the sides. Drop the hands from the wrists and then with as little effort as possible shake them. This starts the circulation. Now, holding the body firm at the waist line, rotate torso, head, arms. Here you have the rudiments of the aforesaid young woman's "lesson in grace."—New York Mail.

HEALTHFUL HOSIERY.

Stockings Should Never Be Worn Unless Thoroughly Washed.

No matter how pretty a stocking looks, it should never be worn until it has been thoroughly washed. This may seem overparticular to many, but the dye used to color some hosiery contains a certain element that is poisonous to some persons and, entering the skin through a slight abrasion, will frequently cause serious trouble. Red stockings are the most likely to be injurious.

Another thing to guard against is the stocking that is too short. One of the greatest causes of bunions is the stocking that does not give the toes sufficient room. Light as the pressure is, it is yet so steady as to cause this painful condition of the joints. After putting the stocking on it should be pulled out from the toes to give them greater freedom and incidentally prevent the stockings from wearing out.

A stocking should not be too long, however. If it is it will surely wrinkle and cause the foot to blister. A good plan is to have the stocking half an inch longer than the foot measurement, this length being sufficient to give the foot perfect freedom and yet run no risk of hurting it in any way. —Baltimore Sun.

LAUNDRY LINES.

Mildewed linen should be soaked for several hours in buttermilk and then washed in the usual way.

Three ounces of borax and two pounds of sliced white bar soap dissolved in two quarts of hot water will make a splendid lather for washing clothes.

Never launder table linen when stained until an attempt has been made to remove the spots, as it is almost impossible to efface any discoloration after the cloth has been submerged in soapy water.

To wash white lace boil some rice to a pulp and, having diluted this with water, wash the lace in it. Rinse in a fresh supply of rice water and then pin out to dry. This method of cleansing lace makes it a good color and just stiff enough.

CANDIDATES BERRY-HEAD

BERRY BY ACCLAMATION

There Was a Sharp Contest for State Treasurer, but Berks County Started a Stampede.

IT ENDED IN HEAD WINNING EASILY.

Harrisburg, Pa., May 25.—William H. Berry, the reform mayor of Chester, was nominated for state treasurer, and John B. Head, of Greensburg, for judge of the superior court by Wednesday's democratic state convention on a platform confined to state issues, with particular reference to existing political conditions in Philadelphia growing out of the gas lease agitation.

Mr. Berry was nominated by acclamation, following a sharp contest over the selection of the nominee for judge, although it was conceded from the start that Mr. Head would be nominated. Mr. Head led all his competitors on the first ballot and before the result of the second ballot could be announced a motion that his nomination be made unanimous was adopted.

Berks county started the stampede for Mr. Head on the second ballot by breaking away from Dewalt and voting for the Greensburg candidate. Philadelphia then clinched his nomination by dropping Ward and casting its fifty votes for Head. Delaware switched from Dickinson to Head, and while several delegates were on their feet demanding recognition for the purpose of changing their votes the motion to make the nomination unanimous was sprung and carried.

Judge Peter P. Smith, of Scranton, the present minority representative on the superior court, was not a candidate. National Chairman Guffey, who was in absolute control of the convention, was present in the convention hall only a short time. So sure was Mr. Head of his nomination that he remained away from Harrisburg during the convention.

He is virtually assurred of election, because no elector can vote for more than three candidates, when four are to be elected, which is the case this year. He was born and raised at Latrobe and has been a member of the bar since 1880. Mr. Berry is a wealthy manufacturer and was elected mayor of Chester on the reform ticket last February.

The opposition to Head concentrated all its efforts in an attempt to defeat a resolution, offered at the meeting of the resolutions committee favoring the nomination of but one candidate. This resolution was adopted by the committee by a vote of 2 to 12 and was subsequently adopted by the convention by a vote of 210 to 102.

The convention also adopted a resolution, reported from the state committee, changing the party rules so as to avoid prolonged deadlocks over the nomination of judicial, congressional and senatorial candidates. The chairman was instructed to appoint a committee to formally notify the candidates of their nomination. This committee will be announced later, after which the time and place of holding the notification meeting will be fixed.

Why He Wouldn't Pay.

Booker T. Washington told a story in the dialect of his race a few days ago at Cheney Industrial school for Negroes which will probably be remembered longer than the more serious part of his discourse. Mr. Washington said that a short time ago he was called upon to address the members of a negro church in Alabama, which was having trouble with its finances. The pastor had not been paid in a year, and the running expenses of the church had not been defrayed. The negro educator told the members of the congregation of their duty to the church and its pastor and expostulated with them on their un-Christian-like conduct. All the time he was talking an aged negro in the rear of the church was shaking his head and saying: "Ain't g'wine to pay no mo' money." When he had repeated this several times Mr Washington asked the brother to explain why he refused to pay the pastor's salary, and the old darkey replied: "He preached dem same sermons last year and de year befo'. Dey has been paid for and ain't g'wine to pay no mo money."

Preach to the Fathers.

Rev. Anne Shaw, in an address to the W. C. T. U. at Atlantic City, said some pertinent things that should appeal strongly to fathers.

"We have been preached to by clergymen and lectured at by the lecturers and told how to be good mothers, and even President Roosevelt took the stand before a women's congress to tell them how to be good mothers. It seems that if you women want to know how to be a good mother you must get a man to tell you. It is about time that women should begin to lecture the men on fatherhood.

"There is too much sentimental nonsense about this ideal motherhood; too much poetry. We hear too much about this ideal motherhood; too much about the hand that rocks the cradle ruling the world. It's pure nonsense. What the hand that rocks the cradle wants is the power to control circumstances after the world goes out of the cradle. The hand that rocks the cradle cannot reach beyond the doorstep.

"I believe in the power of fatherhood. Today the father is lost in the producer, in the provider of material things. It would be better if one-half we had in the house were not there and that the father had more time in the home. The depravity of youth in a majority of cases is due to the lack of a father's care or training and influence.

"Boys don't take their moral lessons from their mother, but from their fathers. No one boy in ten thousand wants to be like a woman. He wants to be like a man. Why does a boy take to smoking? Not because he likes it, but he will brave all the ills for the sake of looking like a man.

"In these strenuous times a man often robs his children of his time and moral influence with the struggle for material things. And then when he does come home he puts up before him a great wall, the evening newspaper, like the wall of China. A man may be a good provider for his children, but not a good friend to them. We want more of the open heart life that would produce a better manhood than the world has ever seen."

Just Streets.

"The highest street in the world," said a globe trotter, "is Main street in Denver, the richest is Fifth avenue in New York, the widest is Market street in Philadelphia and the shortest is the Rue Ble in Paris. This street is only twenty feet long. The dirtiest street is Tchangsti in Nankin, the cleanest is the Via Castile in Seville, the most aristocratic is Groevenor place, London; the most beautiful is the Avenue des Champe Elysees, Paris. The narrowest street is Via Sol, Havana, which has a width of forty-two inches. The ugliest street is considered by many foreign artists and architects to be Broadway, New York, with its sky-scrapers."

Ridgway Lovers.

A couple of Ridgway young men who have a tender spot way down in their hearts for the same young lady came very nearly getting together the other day. While the young lady was out walking with a new Lochinvar her "steady" called and was at the house when the couple arrived. A little diplomacy on the part of the young lady saved a flow of blood. If there is not enough young ladies at Ridgway to go around the Daily News would suggest that some of the young men of that place come over to Bellefonte, they grow by the acre over here and the woods are full of them.

Anti Race Suicide Tenement.

If plans now being discussed are carried out the largest and best equipped tenement house in the world will soon be built in Brooklyn. It will cover an entire city block and will stand twenty stories high. A special feature of the construction will be provision for large families. In fact, it may be that in contrast with so many tenements which are barred to families having children none will be allowed in the proposed tenement except where there are offspring. Mrs. Oliver H. P. Belmont is the sponsor for the plan:

—All the healing balsamic virtues of the Norway pine are concentrated in Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, nature's own remedy for coughs and colds.

Slayer of Sergius Executed.

It is semi-officially announced that Ivan Kaleieff, who murdered the Grand Duke Sergius at Moscow, Feb. 17, was hanged at St. Petersburg Tuesday May 23, at 3 o'clock in the morning.

On the scaffold Kaleieff made a speech, in which he said: "It is said that I asked for pardon. It is a lie. I am faithful to the tradition of the people's will. I do not ask any favor, I am glad to die."

The people's will is the name formerly borne by the party identical with the present social revolutionaries.

Grand Lodge Adjourned.

The Grand Lodge of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows, of Pennsylvania, after the installation of officers, adjourned Thursday to meet in Pittsburg in May, 1906.

Ten thousand dollars was appropriated toward the entertainment of the Sovereign Grand Lodge, which assembles in Philadelphia next September. The question of voting $5,000 towards erecting a monument in memory of Past Grand Sire James B. Nicholson was defeated.

The retiring Grand Master, Robert Graham, conducted the installation of the new Grand Lodge officers, as follows: Grand Master, Melville F. Chubbuck, Towanda; Deputy Grand Master, Geo. H. Banes, Philadelphia; Grand Warden, Rev. B. H. Hart, of Harrisburg; Grand Secretary, Joseph S. Mackey; Grand Treasurer, M. Richards Muckle; Grand Representative, George Hawkes.

The new Grand Master announced appointments of other officers as follows: Grand Chaplain, Rev. T. M. Jackson, of Philadelphia; Grand Marshall, J. Calvin Meyer, Bellefonte; Grand Recorder, Grant R. McGlahrty Norristown; Grand Guardian, Louis Camp, Tunkhannock; Grand Herald, John Nesper, Philadelphia.

Fair Murderess in Trousers.

A remarkable story of love and revenge was told in Baltimore recently by a woman found in man's clothing. Harvey McGill, a Baltimore county farmer, saw what he supposed to be a man lying unconscious on a dump just outside the city. In giving assistance the farmer discovered that the sick person in corduroy trousers and rough coat and shirt was a woman.

Upon recovering from the fainting spell, in which the farmer found her the woman, who is about 35 years old, begged him not to reveal her sex. Then she told him that she was a native of Mexico. Her mother was a Mexican, her father American. They lived at Cantrevas. When a young woman she fell in love with an American. He promised to marry her, the day was set, but he disappeared. She determined to find him, and, after a long search located him in another town. He was married. Infuriated by her discovery, she procured a pistol and killed him and his wife. Since then she had been a fugitive and had traveled through the Southern States.

McGill tried to detain the woman but she hurried away after telling her story. He informed the police who today are hunting for the woman.

—"It was almost a miracle. Burdock Blood Bitters cured me of a terrible breaking out all over the body. I am very grateful." Miss Julia Filbridge, West Cornwell, Conn.

The Spilling of Salt.

The original superstition of salt dates from the overturned salt cellar which is found in the painting called "La Sainte-Sene." In front of the figure of Judas Iscariot, who wears the leather bag in which he carries the 30 pieces of silver received for betraying Christ, is the overturned salt cellar.

But why did the artist, Da Vinci, put the spilled salt before Judas? Because, explains the Washington Star, the ancients always attached to salt an idea of ruin and desolation. When they burned down a town they sprinkled salt over it to show that it was never to be rebuilt. Da Vinci in his picture wished to demonstrate that ill-gotten gains never could be profitable.

Enforce the Laws.

A law passed by the last legislature goes into immediate effect, whereby a fine of $10 or imprisonment may be imposed upon any person throwing any rubbish, ashes or garbage on any street or alley in any city, borough or township in the commonwealth.

When are we going to begin to enforce this law in Bellefonte?

And there is that new cigarette law. Is it being enforced? Some of our young boys are still smoking cigarettes. Where do they get them, or the material to make them? It is a misdemeanor for any one to sell or give them to a minor. This matter will bear investigation.

A MEASURE OF MERIT

BELLEFONTE CITIZENS SHOULD WEIGH WELL THIS EVIDENCE.

Proof of merit lies in the evidence.

Convincing evidence in Bellefonte.

Is not the testimony of strangers,

But the endorsement of Bellefonte people.

That's the kind of proof given here—

The statement of a Bellefonte citizen.

Mrs. Catherine Gross, of Valentine St., says: "I cannot only recommend Doan's Kidney Pills from my experience but other members of our family have also tried them with beneficial results. I used them for backache and kidney ailments from which I had suffered for a long while

There was a dull, heavy, continuous pain through my loins accompained with headachees and I could find no relief. I tried many remedies before I heard of Doan's Kidney Pills and then sent to the Bush Block Drug Store and got a box. I used a few doses and found relief. I improved so rapidly that I continued taking them until my trouble left me entirely and I have had no return of it since."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cts. cents. Foster—Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y. sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no others

A Lesson in Health.

Healthy kidneys filter the impurities from the blood, and unless they do this good health is impossible, Foley's Kidney Cure makes sound kidneys and will positively cure all forms of kidney and bladder disease. It strengthens the whole system. Sold by C. M. Parrish.

FIRST IN THE FIELD.
Just commenced in the New York Family Story paper

A Modern Bluebeard

or the adventures of a Female Sherlock Holmes a realistic romance founded on fact by Fanny May. You who have been reading the daily papers can easily imagine how the thought came to the author's mind to write this story. Though purely a romance, many of its most sensational and dramatic scenes are based on fact It is a startling expose of a wicked man's wiles. This realistic romance begins in No. 1644 of THE NEW YORK FAMILY STORY PAPER.

It's Dangerous To Doubt.

You have no right to doubt a thing that has been tested and found to rest on fact.

Vin-te-na has cured so many people in so many parts of the country that it is really unjust to predict a failure in any case that has gone beyond the power of medicine.

Vin-te-na purifies the blood and makes the nerves strong and steady. It not only cures disease but safeguards the system against every form of germ disease. Most all diseases are rooted in the blood. Vin-te-na cures the very cause of all blood disorders by destroying the impurities in the blood and giving it purity and warmth. Get it and be strong.

It is all very well for the Comptroller of the Currency to warn bank directors against speculating, but would it not be more to the point if he directed the bank examiners to insist on the retirement of every director who speculates?

Secretary Morton will resign from the cabinet in September or October and the administration is diligently inquiring if there is any gentlemen who has never seen the high seas, who would like job.

John D. Rockefeller says the churches must adopt Standard Oil methods and consolidate if they hope to survive the march of progress.

The last pensioner of the War of 1812 has just died. The last pensioner of the Spanish War is doubtless numbered among the unborn, as yet.

It is now reported that Rojesventsky is heading for Petropavlovski. If he can find a pilot who will take him safely past that array of consonants he will be fortunate.

Judge Hooker's announcement that there is no foundation for the report that he will resign adds one more to the list of those who ought to-but-won't. Senators Mitchell and Burton are already on the list.

The retiring United States Ambassador to Paris, General Horace Porter, was given an elaborate dinner by his friends in that city. We trust the expense was not charged up to the French Equitable Life Assurance Society.

Senator Depew nominated President Roosevelt for the presidency for the term beginning in 1909, at a recent dinner in Philadelphia. That makes four nominations within a month, two Democratic, one Republican and one Depew.

The recent decision of the Supreme Court of the United States that the Chicago Board of Trade is not a gambling institution indicates that Chief Justice Fuller has been so long away from the Windy City as to forget his youthful experience in the wheat market.

A private fruit grower refused to sell his crop of strawberries to the trust and applied to the railway for refrigerator cars. The railroad "really couldn't furnish them" and eleven carloads of berries were ruined. Hereafter, the grower will be wise and sell his berries to the trust at its prices. Meanwhile, the consumer should pool interest with the grower and demand remedial legislation.

The High School Exhibit.

It is to be hoped that everyone of our readers will visit the W. C. T. U. rooms in Petrikin hall and inspect the splendid exhibit the High school has there. It was a revelation to the writer as no doubt it will be to others who visit it during the coming week. The large room is completely filled with examples of the work accomplished in the four year course at the High school. As you enter you will notice to the left the work of the Senior class in trigonometry and geometry, many difficult problems are skillfully worked out with proper drawings, etc. The students made paste board blocks representing triangles, globes of all sizes. Next is the exhibit of instruments used in the chemical laboratory which shows how well provided for work the High school is. Along the east side of the room can be seen the work in free hand drawing which is truly wonderful. Then there are colored maps of the different countries and even of Centre county drawn in a faultless manner by students. Samples of their work in history, English, Latin, physiology, ethics, etc., can also be seen.

In the rear of the room are five cases all filled with specimens of minerals, woods, raw materials, all of which are at different times used by the students in the course of their studies.

The exhibit is certainly an eye opener to those who do not know the splendid equipment and thorough course of training which our High school possesses. We commend Prof. Meyer and his assistants, Miss Levy and Prof. Wagner for their thoughtfulness in arranging this exhibit, for it cannot help but promote a greater interest and better understanding of what the High school accomplishes from year to year.

A Lecture on Christian Science.

First Church of Christ, Scientists of Howard, Pa, announces a lecture on Christian Science, to be given in Christian Chapel, Howard, next Friday evening by Judge S. H. Hanna, of Colorado.

Some fifteen years ago Judge Hanna retired from the practice of law to engage in Christian Science work, and for ten years served as editor-in-chief of the periodicals of this denomination published in Boston. He is widely known as an able lecturer, and for the last two years has been a member of the Christian Science Board of Lectureship of the First Church of Christ, Scientists, of Boston, Mass., founded by Mrs. Eddy, the author of the text-book on Christian Science.

WEEKLY MARKET REVIEW.

Sentiment in the security market is growing more cheerful.

The week just closed has had many turbulent movements downward, but closing prices average decidedly better than last Saturday. There have been a number of adverse developments, including the failures of the Merchants' Trust Company of New York, Holzman & Co. of Cincinnati, members of the New York Stock Exchange; Burnett, Cummings & Co., a banking firm of Boston, and two or three small country banks. The announcement of the dissolution of the steel rail pool was another bearish item. Each of these events were accompanied by alarmist rumors, magnifying importance and calculated to arouse distrust. That the market but temporarily yielded under these successive blows revealed intrinsic strength,

On the other hand—in the direction of confidence—is the authentic and official news of the establishment of harmonious relations between all the interests involved in the Northern Securities settlement testified to unmistakably by the action of the executive committees of Northern Pacific and Union Pacific instructing their operating officials to prepare agreements for the joint construction of a new railroad in the Clearwater district, the agreement marking the settlement of a dispute of several years' standing. Here is positive evidence of practical friendship. The effect of these disclosures must be beneficial to the security market, removing from it an overhanging threat of four years' duration.

The dissolution of the steel rail pool seems to be a fact, though officials will not distrust the matter, Chairman Gary, of the United States Steel Corporation remarking: "First, you will have to prove that there was a pool. I have nothing to say." Some unsettlement of prices may ensue, but railroad needs are large and there is no likelihood that an open market for steel rails will cause any serious distress to manufacturers. And of course if any reduction in the price is made railroads will correspondingly benefit. Commenting on this phase of the situation the Pittsburg correspondent of the Journal of Commerce says: "Fortunately the rail mills have pretty well cleaned up contracts on their books, and if an open price is made on steel rails the railroad will have to get the benefit of any reduction in price over the official figure of the rail pool, which was $28 a ton.

Crop scare stories fall flat Government reports show no material deterioration in winter wheat, which will undoubtedly reach harvest in good condition. Later crops are about two weeks behind and on account of continued cool weather, but there is nothing abnormal in this—nothing that can be easily overcome. Probabilities point to satisfactory crops of all kinds—and these are the basis of prosperity.

Nervousness diminishes regarding the tariff and railroad rate questions. As to tariff revision it takes but little common sense to realize that protective interests will suffer no hardship by any action under the control of the Republican party. No doubt the changed conditions since the passage of the Dingley bill called for the correction of many inequalities, which can work injury to no one. As to the railroad rate question Secretary Taft's speech at the Ohio Republican convention is highly reassuring. Both of these vexed issues will no doubt be brought to satisfactory solution by the next Congress—and to solution not in line with the dismal hopes of Wall Street bears.

The technical situation is very strong. Speculative plunging accounts have been liquidated to an enormous extent and the short interest has just been correspondingly expanded. Investment demand appears in large volume on all recessions of a few points and comes from all over the country—and this is really the backbone of the market. It is not reasonable to expect that prices will immediately rise to the attitude from which they fell, or that movement for some time will be uniformly upward. The chances are that we shall have a hesitating market for awhile, swinging from a short range, but we believe that purchases made on any reaction will be found profitable and that indeed is the only policy to pursue with hope of success.

A Business Change.

On Saturday the Bellefonte Steam Laundry which was founded and conducted for many years by J. Malcolm Laurie, changed hands, Mr. Laurie selling his entire plant and building on South Water street to Charles T. Noll. Mr. Laurie who is cashier of the bank at Winburne, was compelled to give up the laundry business owing to his other business interests. The plant will be continued as the Bellefonte Steam Laundry, Charles T. Noll, manager. Mr. Noll will move his family here from Clearfield where he was in the employ of the Bell Telephone company. Charlie is an old Bellefonte boy and we welcome him back to our town, bespeaking for him a liberal share of the public's patronage. They are prepared to do all kinds of laundry work; family trade especially solicited.

JACOB D. WAGNER;

Died Tuesday Morning at His Home on Reynolds Avenue.

On Tuesday morning at 6.45 o'clock the death angel entered the Wagner home on Reynolds avenue and called hence to the Glory land the spirit of the loving husband and father, Jacob D. Wagner. The deceased had been ill about two weeks and suffered from epileptic pneumonia. His death was a sad blow to his grief stricken family who certainly have the sympathy of the entire community in their hour of affliction.

Jacob D. Wagner was the son of Jacob D. Wagner Sr., in his time a well-to-do citizen of Bellefonte and was born in this place March 16, 1855. The family finally moved to Rock Forge where the deceased grew to manhood and spent the greater portion of his life. He was a miller by trade and followed that occupation up to the time of his final illness. Five years ago he came to Bellefonte and has resided here ever since.

On December 29 h, 1882, he was married to Miss Catherine Fortney, of Boalsburg, who survives him, with the following children: Chas. W., of Altoona; Mardie, George, Jacob, Ruth Ioa, Nevin J. Curtis Albert, Franklin Emery, Susan Catherine.

He also leaves two brothers and three sisters as follows: Adam, of Bellefonte; Mrs. George Scholl, David Y., Mrs Salina Houser, of Houserville, and Mrs. James Waddle, of Lock Haven.

The deceased was an earnest member of the Reformed church and also belonged to the Boalsburg Lodge of Odd Fellows.

The funeral will take place Friday morning at 10 o'clock. Rev. Ambrose Schmidt will officiate. Interment in the Union cemetery.

DEATH OF CHARLES R. RINE.

A Life Long Citizen of Bellefonte Passes Away

Charles R. Rine, a life long citizen of our town, died this morning at 11:30 o'clock at his home on South Thomas street. He had been confined to his bed with dropsy for several weeks and his death although not unexpected was a great shock to his family and friends.

The deceased was born in Bellefonte January 4th 1852 and was the son of Abram Rine. On December 10th 1885 he was married to Miss Dora Smoyer, who survives him. He also leaves one son Edward Rine, agent for the Adam's Express Company at Punxsutawney. He also leaves the following brothers and sisters: Samuel, James, Morris, of Bellefonte; John, Mrs. Kate Dey, of Tyrone; Mrs. James Ammerman, of Philadelphia; Mrs. Frank Gehret of Bellefonte.

In early life Mr. Rine learned the machinist trade and worked at this occupation for several years. Through an accident he lost the sight of both eyes, which incapacitated him from his trade. He then engaged in the tobacco and cigar business which he continued until his death.

The funeral will took place this Thursday morning. Interment in the Union cemetery.

Death of J. W. Potter.

From the Ogle County Review-Herald.

James W Potter was born at Boalsburg, Pa., August 24, 1830 and died at his late home in Forreston, Ogle county, Illinois aged seventy-four years, eight months and six days. He grew to young manhood in his native state, coming west after he was married. He was united in marriage to Miss Mary L. Ingram November 8, 1855. To this union one son, Samuel, and one daughter, Luella, were born. Both died when still quite young.

Mr. Potter was a faithful son of his country and served two years in the Civil war, being a member of the 148th Pennsylvania regiment, Co. F. It was during the time when he was a soldier that he contracted dyspepsia from which he suffered at frequent intervals until his death.

Mr. Potter was a resident of Forreston for a number of years. He was engaged as a builder and contractor by trade and held the responsible position of public magistrate for a number of years. He was re-elected to that office several weeks prior to his death. He was a member of the Methodist church for many years and on Easter Sunday this year, united with the Lutheran church by letter. Besides his wife, who has the sympathy of the entire community in this time of sorrow, he leaves to mourn his death one brother and one sister—William F. Potter, of Pleasant Gap, Pa.; Mrs. Sarah E. McBride, Hobert; Oklahoma.

An Aged Lady's Death.

Mrs. Mary Behers, widow of Isaac Behers died at her home near Houserville on Thursday after a short illness from paralysis. She was born in Germany and was aged 76 years, 11 months and 10 days, and came to this country when quite young. She was married to Geo. Behers who died several years ago. She resided in the Buffalo Run Valley almost all her life, having moved to Houserville but a short time ago. She was a conscientious member of the Methodist church and the mother of a large family.

The funeral took place on Monday morning at 10 o'clock. Interment at Pine Hall.

Death of Rush Barnes.

Rush Barnes died at the home of his parents in Pleasant Gap on Sunday evening, of typhoid fever after a brief illness. He had been working for a trolley company at Altoona where he was taken sick and brought to his home at Pleasant Gap.

The deceased was a son of Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Barnes and was born at Pleasant Gap about twenty years ago. He is survived by his parents, four brothers and one sister as follows: Hudson, Roy, Orvis, of Altoona; John and Mrs. A. M, Kerstetter, of Pleasant Gap.

The funeral took place Wednesday at 2:30 p. m. Interment at the Gap.

Hot Stuff.

You ask me for 4 tousant works on the scandl on our yong poet of the west ward in the watchman that poetry made me hott I went in to the Editor and said to him stop my paper, he sade I can't the law sais it has to be paid up, I sade you won't stop the paper then, he sade I can't, I sade nether can I, the paper was only stopped a minit and a haf it dident hert it I still take it on now if I had the larnen our yong poet has I cud express myself someware better, the boy haint got his age yet and he is a leding politician of the west ward and has don grate good in stopping that awful crime of buying vots, he belongs to the yong men's Cristeen Association and runs an annex to the Petriken Hot, Bellefonte Club, its cronded with men geten cured of the drink habit he has got all our fazitions in it and there doing well its all spite work he wasant in Williamsport he was worken that day watching my wife's chicken coop. She has got one hen an 10 rusters, she get one egg a day, in hot weather they will do better but it is not right to keep 1 hen and 10 rusters so it pays to keep a watchman. Rusters don't set that is why she keeps the rusters, I feel like defending the boy for now I now what trouble is I went down to Williamsport on business on tuesday the nites templers had a sellebretion thare that day I got in with 4 men one said he was a methodist class leder from State Coulage and I sade he was a Presbyterian infidel from Bellefonte the other too sade they were nitestemplers sellebrating. Don't remember anything mor till I got on the train, when I got home I felt I atto be shott thats why I went down to the chicken koop but the boy dident shoot me I sked him yesterday why he dident shoot me. He sade he was a frade he wold kill the old hen. It showed grate care and bravery in the lad, I hope he will be an exampleficaton to other boy's that they may do also likewise. It is a shame to rite poetry about a boy so young his hare is only sprouting on top of his hed and look wat good he has done writer classick poetry. Its all spite work of Benjamin Franklin Warfield becas he cures me of the drink habit.

A SITTIZEN.

P. S.—Some one said John Harris was at the train; he took some of my stuff so I could get in easy but I did not see him.

Garbrick—Gentzel.

Harry E. Garbrick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Garbrick, of Spring township, and Miss Clara M. Gentzel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Gentzel, were married at 10 o'clock Thursday morning, at the home of the bride's parents at Zion. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Stonecypher, of Boalsburg, in the presence of a number of invited guests After a delicious wedding breakfast the happy couple were driven to this place where they took the 1:05 train west for a brief honeymoon trip. Mr. and Mrs. Garbrick will make their home in Altoona, where the groom is employed as a machinist.

A snail can easily distance the small boy who is sent on an errand.

More dust seems to accumulate on the family Bible than on the cookwork.

There is no patent on trouble, yet lots of men have been arrested for making it.

Centre Hall

Drilling at Centre Hall's prospective oil well commenced at midnight last Friday night, and old mother earth has been bored to a depth of some seventy feet, and by the time this article reaches the eye of your readers the drill will have penetrated to the depth of several hundred feet. It has already gone through a thick vein of iron ore, also through a stream of water, this latter fact settles the apprehension of a water famine should we have a very long dry spell.

Wilbur Haney made a trip to Milroy last Saturday.

W. A Krise and wife returned Saturday after spending a week at the home of their daughter at Milroy, Mrs. Charles Meyer, and daughter, of Reedsville, are visiting Mrs. Meyer's parents Mr. and Mrs. D. Memorial day was appropriately observed here on Tuesday The G. A. R. and their friends left Port Matilda at 8 o'clock for Mt. Pleasant cemetery where they decorated the graves of their dead comrades. From there they went to Black Oak cemetery and after decorating the graves there returned to Port Matilda. The weather being very inclement very few took part in the decorating here. A. A. Dale Esq., of Bellefonte, delivered an address in the Presbyterian church, the weather being too uncertain to have this part of the program in the open air. Those who failed to hear Mr. Dale certainly missed a treat, for it is the consensus of opinion that he delivered one of the best addresses that was ever delivered here. Rev. Free, with his orchestra, furnished some very fine music and he also sang a beautiful solo. After giving a vote of thanks to Mr. Dale and the orchestra all left for their several homes.

Trained Animal Show.

Circus day, with all its joys and delights to young and old, comes this year on Friday, June 2nd, for that is the date on which it is announced that the famous Washburn & D'Alma Famous Trained Animal shows combined will positively exhibit in this city. This show this season is the largest and finest equipped exposition of its character that was ever offered for the public's patronage, and its continued record of enormous and delighted crowds is proof positive that the efforts of the management to provide an amusement enterprise out of the ordinary is thoroughly appreciated There are hundreds of ponies, horses, dogs, cats, monkeys, apes, baboons, elephants and other animals with the show, and the entire entertainment is given by these animal performers under the direction of Mr. John D'Alma, long recognized as the master mind among animal educators of this country. To attempt to describe the many seemingly impossible feats which these animals have been taught to accomplish would take too long. Suffice to say, the people of Bellefonte are assured the finest and most fascinating show that ever visited this city. Two performances will be given, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon and at 8 o'clock in the evening.

Bellefonte Academy and Bellwood.

The Bellefonte Academy nine added another to its string of victories by defeating on Saturday at Meadow Brook Park the strong Bellwood nine by a score of 15 to 4. The Academy this year have the strongest ball team in the history of the school and their batting is unusually strong. The score:

A New Health Law.

Gov. Pennypacker has signed the bill abolishing the State Board of Health and establishing in the stead a Department of Healh whose head shall be clothed with almost unlimited authority in safe-guarding sanitary conditions. The bill was passed finally and sent to the governor on April 4th. This measure has been described as one of the most important pieces of state legislation enacted in years, and prior to its passage was the subject of exhaustive discussion before both houses.

Memorial Day in Nittany Valley

On Saturday May 27th, a number of the members of Post 95 and 261 of Bellefonte and Milesburg, as has been their usual custom, went down Nittany Valley to Snydertown, Hublersburg and Zion for the purpose of holding Memorial Services in the Cemeteries at those places and decorated the graves of soldiers of the several wars, who are buried there. Having so much to do on the regular Memorial Day where the Posts are located it was not possible to go to the above named places on the 30th.

Beginning at Snydertown, services were held there in the cemetery under leadership of W. H. Musser commander of Post 95 Bellefonte a good many people were in attendance as they generally are at that place, after services were concluded in the Cemetery the Lutheran Church being very near by, the audience repaired to the same and after singing an appropriate selection by the choir of the church, Rev. Fleck, pastor of the church made a very excellent address, he was followed by Miss Verna Martin reading Lincoln's memorial address delivered at Gettysburg in 1863, S. B. Miller of Post 95 then made a short address. Helen Beck of Snydertown then read in a beautiful voice a very fine poem, entitled "Decoration Day in 1891" after some more music by the choir commander Musser read an article on Memorial Day, a little young boy son of Mr. Joe Emerick then recited an appropriate speech on the subject, the exercises were closed by the choir singing America and the comrades started for Hublersburg where a most excellent dinner awaited them, after partaking of it at the homes of their different friends the line of march was taken for the cemetery where the exercises were conducted by Past Dept Commander Austin Curtin of Post 261, while in the cemetery a young lady named Miss Margaret McCormick daughter of Dr. McCormick read in a fine voice Lincoln's address, the line of March was then taken for the Reformed church where after singing by the choir of that church and a prayer by Rev. Crow pastor of the church an address was made by him, and at its conclusion another selection was sung by the choir and Hon. Harrison Walker, Mayor of Bellefonte being introduced by commander Curtin, made a most excellent and appropriate address very suitable to the occasion as was also the one delivered by Rev. Mr. Crow, after the thanks of the G. A. R., members had been extended to the people for all the kindness shown the visitors, the choir sang America in which the whole audience joined The line of march (in carriages) was taken for Zion where quite a number of people were waiting on the comrades and band. Commander Musser conducted the exercises at that place and after appropriate selections by the band and all the graves decorated the audience proceeded to the shade of the school house near by and listened to a most eloquent address made by Rev. Schmidt, of Bellefonte Reformed church. Again the thanks were extended to the speaker, the band and others who assisted in the exercises and the line of march was taken for the homes of the comrades in Bellefonte, Milesburg and vicinity, although the drive was long all the way around (about 28 miles) all parties agreed the day was well spent and a duty performed that was pleasing to all. The Zion band which accompanied the comrades all the way around and a debt of gratitude is due from all the old comrades who participated in the exercises and the people who came to attend the services. Mr. Henry Kline is the leader of the Zion band and he was ably assisted by all the members.

There are nine graves of soldiers in the Snydertown cemetery one of which was a soldier in the war of 1812, there are eight in one cemetery at Hublersburg and one in the other, one in the large cemetery is of the war of 1812, there are 12 graves of soldiers in the Zion cemetery all of them of the war of the Rebellion.

GOD'S MESSAGE.

Direct from Heaven in Words of Divine Inspiration Concerning the War in the Far East.

Russia has just learned more distinctly than ever that "The Lord Reigneth; let the earth rejoice, Ps. 97:1. "His way is on the sea and His path in the great waters," Ps. 77:19.

Another dispatch: "Surely the wrath of man shall praise Thee; the remainder of wrath shalt thou restrain." Ps. 76:10.

Still another message. Special to Tokio. "If God be for us, who can be against us." Rom. 8:31.

"God hath chosen the weak things (Little Japs) of the world to confound the things that are mighty." (The Big Russians.) 1 Cor, 1:27.

One more and that is all we have space to report at present.

What that noble, loyal and self-sacrificing Russian, General Stoessel, said at the awful closing scenes of the terrible seige at Port Arthur. "God is in it all."

A Word About the Gold and White Assembly During the Academy Celebration.

The centennial celebration of the Bellefonte Academy will provide many pleasures for those interested in this historic institution, but that number on the centennial program which will probably prove the most entertaining and delightful of all is the "Gold and White Assembly" to be held on Friday evening, June 16, in the armory. A few years ago the Gold and White assembly proved the most successful event of its kind held in Bellefonte for many a day. The centennial dance committee are planning to make the assembly on June 16 eclipse anything of the kind ever held in Centre county. A full orchestra either from Williamsport or Greensburg will furnish the music for all the centennial exercises and for the assembly. So many guests are expected from out of town that it is necessary to adopt a plan to limit the application for tickets to the capacity of the armory. To that end it has been decided by the assembly committee of which Edmund Blanchard Esq., is chairman, to charge everyone, male and female, who enters the armory on that occasion one dollar. Admission will be granted only by presenting tickets on which will be written the names of the bearers.

Mr Blanchard desires all who wish to attend this assembly to send him their names at once. When a comfortable capacity limit has been reached no more tickets will be sold.

"It is the little rift within the lute which ever widening, makes the music mute." It is just a little rift in the health of a woman often, which gradually takes the spring from her step, the light from her eyes, the rose from her cheek and the music from her voice. Perhaps the bug-bear which has frightened the woman from the time'y help needed at the beginning has been the dreaded questions the obnoxious examination, the local treatments, of the home physician There is no need for these. Nor is there need for continued suffering. Dr Pierce's Favorite Prescription can be relied on by every woman, suffering from what are called "female troubles," to renew the health and cure the disease. WOMAN'S WORLD

MISS JANE ADDAMS.

Her Fame as a Social Reformer Extends Round the World.

Since the fame of Hull House, generally known as the most successful of all social settlements, has extended from Chicago throughout the civilized world, a great deal has been said and written about its founder and head, Miss Jane Addams.

Comparatively few, however, know that in Philadelphia Miss Addams found most of that practical teaching which has enabled her to do so great a work among Chicago's poor.

Miss Addams was twenty-eight years old when she came to Philadelphia and had already decided upon her life work.

nois—she traveled in Europe with her warm friend and schoolmate, Miss Ellen Starr. They visited most of the cities of the continent, and in each they made a special study of the condition of districts stricken by poverty.

When they sailed for home they had made up their minds to introduce the social settlement idea in the west and devote their lives to the work. From this incentive Hull House came into being, founded by Miss Addams and Miss Starr.

Before entering upon the great work of her life, however, Miss Addams decided to make a sojourn to Philadelphia in order to study the conditions and charitable work which she should do in Chicago.

The next year, in 1889, the social settlement of Hull House was opened in the Nineteenth ward of Chicago, said to be the worst municipal district in the world.

In it are massed people of nearly every country on the globe, most of whom live in squalor and depravity. Fifty thousand men, women and children call the ward home.

In any event, the district was bad enough to suit Miss Addams and Miss Starr, and there they have been working ever since and with a success that is remarkable.

How far famed Hull House really is may be judged from a single incident. At the time of the Paris exposition Miss Addams was in France trying to obtain information as to the status of social settlements in Europe.

One day she was talking with a celebrated sociologist, but the word "settlement" seemed unknown to him. As clearly as she could she explained its spirits and aims, and then he understood.

"Oh, yes," he exclaimed, "certainly. Madam means a Hull House."—Philadelphia North American.

Helps For the Cook.

Many steps can be saved the cook, whether she happens to combine with that important office the duties of the family mother or whether she happens to be paid for her services, if only the kitchen be fitted up with conveniences of various kinds for her special use. These cost little to provide, and a handy man in the house may put them up himself.

Right over the range or just at one side of it may be placed a hanging cupboard that will save many unnecessary trips backward and forward from the shelves of the regular kitchen closet. This small cupboard may be of any size commensurate with the wall space, but should be divided into half by a shelf which is at least six inches deep. Now, the lower half can be divided again in half, leaving one tall compartment for vinegar and other bottles and a group of four square spaces to be used for smaller jars, bottles and such things. The upper half of the cupboard can be divided into as many or as few compartments as will suit individual convenience.

There is no door to this hanging cupboard. It must be left open so that everything upon its shelves is within easy and quick reach of the cook. Here she will have before her and ready for instant use vinegar, bicarbonate of soda, sugar, salt, nutmeg, spices, including black pepper and paprika, onion juice, garlic, cloves and all the small essentials to good flavoring which may be needed at short notice.

Instead of having to cross the floor to open a closet door and take down what she wants, then recrossing to the range, these things will be right at her hand.

COLOR OF THE SUN.

What Would Happen If It Were Other Than What It Is.

A German astronomer has published some interesting observations on the theoretical effects of a change in the color of the sun. It is amazing to consider the possibilities if our sun were green, blue or red instead of what it is. If it were blue, there would be only two colors in the world—blue and black. If it were red, then everything would be red or black. If it were yellow, everything would be yellow or black. Every one knows that the light of our sun consists of six colors, and the reason things are different hues is that some swallow up five of the colors and reflect only one. Thus we have primoses yellow because they absorb all but the yellow, roses red because they absorb all but the red, violets purple because they absorb everything but red and blue, a mixture of which two colors forms purple.

In the event of the sun being red, roses, blood, red ink and all other things that are now red would reflect it. So also would snow, the lily and all things that are now white, but these would, of course, be red. Everything else would swallow up the red light and appear quite black. Grass, for instance, would be black as ink, and so would the blue of the sky, but the white clouds would be red. The same kind of thing would happen if the sun were blue. Everything now blue or white would be blue and everything else black. The whole sky, clouds and all, would be blue. The grass this time would be blue, not black, for it reflects both blue and yellow. Hair would be all black, the red of the lips would be black, and the rest of the face would be a cloudy blue. If the sun were green, we would have a little variety. Things that are now yellow would still be yellow, things that are blue would be blue, and things that are green would still be green, but there would be no reds, purples, orange, pinks or any of those cheery hues that make the world look so bright.—New York Herald.

POINTED PARAGRAPHS.

If you don't want to jeopardize friendship don't lend money to friends.

When we hear of a person who refused to submit to an operation and got well we feel like cheering.

The youngest girl in a family is liable to put on princess airs long after her sixteen-year-old complexion fades.

Elderly men should not judge young men by themselves. Young men and elderly men are entirely different propositions.

The colors in a tree don't appeal to a man so much as the lumber in it, and all the poetry in the world will not change him.

Families should be good and large, so that every member will hear the real truth about himself from at least a half dozen persons.

Old fashioned hospitality is dying out. Perhaps you are to blame for killing off some of it. Did you ever visit often and too long?—Atchison Globe.

Marinating Steak.

A correspondent asks for directions for marinating round steak to make it tender. Equal quantities of salad oil and vinegar, or, better still, lemon juice, makes a good marinade. Two tablespoonfuls each of the oil and the vinegar well mixed and seasoned is poured into a platter, and the steak is turned several times in the mixture. Leave it to soak for at least six hours. The French make a very elaborate marinade, which gives the meat a delicious flavor. Finely slice a white onion and place it in the dish with several slices of lemon, a bay leaf, a few whole peppers, two cloves, a bit of mace and a sprig of parsley pulled apart with the fingers. Add the oil and vinegar and stir well together.—New York Post.

Enlarged Pores.

For enlarged pores a hot face bath at night is first necessary, always followed by a cold plunge. A few drops of benzoin in the water will aid a cure, and should the face require cleansing during the day some astringent lotion should be used, such as the following: One-half pint of lilac flower water, four ounces of alcohol, two and a half ounces of glycerin, two ounces of sweet almonds (powdered) and one-quarter ounce salicylic acid. Add almonds to perfumed water and shake vigorously. Then add glycerin and the other ingredients and agitate thoroughly. Apply during the day and at night with a soft cloth.

Position In Bed.

Do you ache in the morning? If that is the case the chances are that it is due to a habit of lying in bed in a wrong position. The only position for resting is that which relieves the muscles and joints. This is the one called "extension." Very few persons realize that to rest thoroughly the muscles should be relaxed. Another mistake is to have the bed hard. If it causes aching be very sure that you need to have it softer. Do not make a martyr of yourself for the opinions set forth by some spectacled professor. He will not bear your aches and pains.

YOUR BIRTHDAY.

How to Find the Day of the Week Upon Which It Fell.

What day of the week was Jan. 15, 1868? To find this out divide the figures representing the year by four, rejecting the remainder, if any. To this dividend and quotient add the number of days in the year up to and including the given date, always counting February as twenty-eight days, whether a leap year or not. Divide this sum by seven, and the remainder will be the number of the day of the week, beginning with Sunday as one. If there is no remainder the day will be Saturday. This rule always gives correct answers to any date. Taking the one given above, Jan. 15, 1868, for example:

4)1868 (the year, or dividend).
467 (the quotient).
15 (days to Jan. 15).
7)2350 (dividend, quotient and days added).
336 (leaving a remainder of 5).

There being a remainder of five, we find that Jan. 15, 1868, fell upon the fifth day of the week, which is Thurs-

How Ned Got Even.

"Oh, I have a lovely secret!" cried Bessy as she ran into the dining room.

"What is it?" said her twin brother Ned.

"I will not tell you. It wouldn't be a secret if I did," answered Bessy teasingly.

"All right, then, but I will get even," said Ned angrily. So he went out to Bessy's playhouse and on the chair where she generally sat playing with her dolls placed a lot of pins. After awhile in came Bessy and was just about to sit down when a playmate called her and said:

"Mamma has given me two dolls—one for you, the other for me—so let's go and dress them."

Soon after Ned went in with a book in his hand and sat plump down on the pins he had placed on the chair for Sister Bessy. It was a good lesson for Ned, and now he plays no more practical jokes on his sister.

The Elephant as a Worker.

Any one who thinks the elephant a slow, clumsy beast would have cause to change his opinion on seeing him at work along the rivers of northern Siam. The rainy season, which begins in April, is the time when the teak logs, cut during the dry season in the forests about the upper waters of the Menam river, are floated down to Rahang, where they are caught and rafted to Bangkok. Instead of red shirted, spike shoed "river drivers," such as handle the logs in their downstream journey to the sawmills on the Penobscot and Kennebec in Maine, the "lumber driving" of the Siamese rivers is done by barefooted, half naked men on elephants, and the "bone" labor and much of the thinking involved in the operation are done by the elephants.

Traveling is Dangerous.

Constant motion jars the kidneys which are kept in place in the body by delicate attachments. This is the reason that travelers, trainmen, street car men, teamsters and all who drive very much, suffer from kidney disease in some form. Foley's Kidney Cure strengthens the kidneys and cures all forms of kidney and bladder disease. Geo. E. Hausan, locomotive engineer, Lima, O., writes, "Constant vibration of the engine caused me a great deal of trouble with my kidneys, and I got no relief until I used Foley's Kidney Cure. Sold by C. M. Parrish.

"I am well now and enjoying better health than ever before in my whole life."

That is the statement of a woman who had never been well until she was made well by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. There are a great many other women in like case. They have always been sufferers from disease. They have never known the joy of perfect health.

For all such women Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription holds out the prospect of perfect and permanent health, by the cure of the womanly diseases which weaken women. It establishes regularity, dries weakening drains, heals inflammation and ulceration, and cures female weakness. It makes weak women strong and sick women well.

"It gives me pleasure to let you know of the great benefit received from Dr. Pierce's medicines and the advice which you so kindly sent," writes Mrs. Bertie Parker, of Bonham, Fannin Co., Texas. "I took your 'Favorite Prescription,' 'Golden Medical Discovery' and 'Pleasant Pellets,' and followed your advice regarding the 'Lotion Tablets,' and am cured. I had been treated by different doctors and spent one hundred dollars for treatment and medicine, but received very little relief. I have only spent seventeen dollars and fifty cents for your medicine and it has cured me in three or four months of ulceration and falling of uterus. I suffered severe misery in my back, also irregular periods. Had bearing-down in lower portion of body and great pain all through my body. Pain in uterus was very severe. Had smothering spells, breath was very short all the time, had pain in stomach, pain in my thighs, pain in breast, also between my shoulders. Bowels constipated. I am well now and enjoying better health than ever before in my whole life. Am happy to tell you that I was cured by your good advice and good medicines, the 'Favorite Prescription,' 'Golden Medical Discovery,' 'Pleasant Pellets' and 'Lotion Tablets.' These medicines cured me and will cure others also."

The dealer who offers a substitute for "Favorite Prescription" does so to gain the little more profit paid on the sale of less meritorious medicines. His profit is your loss, therefore accept no substitute.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate the bowels.

DEATH OF JUSTICE DEAN!

Chief of the Supreme Court Passes Away.

ILL BUT THREE WEEKS

A LIFE OF CEASELESS ACTIVITY

Altoona, May 26.—Hon. John Dean, a Justice of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania, died at her home in Hollidaysburg at 7:50 Thursday evening. The end came peacefully in the presence of all the members of his family. Three weeks ago Justice Dean suffered a slight stroke of paralysis, supposed to be the result of overwork. He left his apartments in Philadelphia and returned to his home in Hollidaysburg. For a few days after his return home his condition seemed to improve, when suddenly pneumonia with other complications set in.

Dr. S. Solis Cohen, a Philadelphia specialist, was summoned and reached the patient Wednesday afternoon, but was unable to stay the progress of the disease. At 2 o'clock Thureday morning the Judge became unconscious and remained in that condition until he died. Among those at the bedside along with his wife and four daughters, were a brother, Samuel Dean, of Rochelle, Illinois, and a sister, Mrs. Charles Balt, of Philadelphia.

Judge Dean was born in Williamsburg, Blair county, February 15, 1835. He received his education in the common schools at the Williamsburg Academy, and Washington College, of Washington, Pa, He taught school for a while and afterwards read law with James Bell and D. H. Hoffins in Hollidaysburg, being admitted to the bar in 1855. In 1857 he was elected Superintendent of Blair county public schools. He was appointed District Attorney in 1867 to fill an unexpired term and was afterwards elected for a full term. In 1871 he was elected Judge of the Twenty-fourth Judicial District, including Huntingdon, Blair and Cambria counties, defeating a Democrat and Independent candidate. He was re-elected in 1881 and in 1891. In 1892 he was elected to the Supreme Bench on the Republican ticket.

MRS. LIVERMORE DEAD.

Well Known Writer and Reformer Succumbs to Bronchitis:

Mrs. Mary A. Livermore, the well known writer and reformer, died at her home in Melrose, Mass. Bronchitis and a week heart hastened the end.

Mrs. Mary Ashton Livermore was born in Boston on Dec. 19, 1820, and was the daughter of Timothy Rice. After being educated in the Boston public schools and the Charlestown Female seminary she was a teacher for a number of years. In 1845 she was married to Rev. D. P. Livermore, a Universalist clergyman, who died in 1899. In 1857 she removed to Chicago, where her husband became editor of a Univerealist paper, Mrs. Livermore acting as associate editor.

Mrs. Livermore was the first president of the Illinois Woman's Suffrage association In 1869 she became editor of the Agitator, but in the following years she returned to Boston and was editor of the Woman's Journal for two years. At the time of her death she was president of the Massachusetts Woman's Suffrage association.

Mrs. Livermore was active in the anti-slavery agitation and Washington temperance movement. During the civil war she took a leading part in the work of the United States sanitary commission. After her return to this state she was for ten years president of the Massachusetts Woman's Christian Temperance union. In the course of her work on the platform she delivered lectures all over this country and in England and Scotland. She also was the author of many books.

"Loosen" a Little.

In time the banks of this city will waken up to the fact that a judicious use of printers ink will bring from the old stocking, iron kettles, drawers and what not a good bunch of money now lying idle in the cold storages. In time, too, the people may also learn that there are banks in this county that are amply able to care for their coin and when they want it it will be found just where they have placed it. Few days pass that we do not hear of the miser's gold having been stolen and often the miser sent on his long journey. Banks throughout the country have used printer's ink judiciously the same as other enterprising business men and the result has been a large increase in deposits.

If the people of this county are slow to put their money in banks, one reason is because they have little encouragement from the bankers and in many cases are afraid or do not know the objects of their banks. Banks in other cities "got busy" long ago and the judicious use of a little printer's ink brought the old sock deposits from their musty resting places and they are now safe in the vaults of the banks that advertised.—Clinton County Times.

Strictly Genuine.

Most of the patent medicine testimonials are probably genuine. The following notice recently appeared in the Atchison, (Kan.,) Globe: "Joe Tack, a well known engineer, running on the Missouri Pacific between Wichita and Kiowa, lately appeared in a big one, with a picture, and when he was in this office to-day, we asked him about it. He says he had terrible pains in his stomach, and thought he had cancer. His druggist recommended Kodol and he says it cured him. He recommended it to others, who were also cured." Kodol Dyspepsia Cure digests what you eat and cures all stomach troubles. Just as surely as the sun shines your stomach can be brought back to its original pure condition and life sweetened by this lasting and truly the greatest digestant known. Sold by Green's Pharmacy.

—Columbia soups, Tomato ketchup and baked beans, are just the correct thing at SECHLER & Co.

New Form of Oath.

On June 1st, when the presidents of the different school boards take office, they will be obliged to subscribe to an oath different from that of former years. They must take oath that the compulsory attendance law has been complied with: that no teacher has been employed at a salary of less than $35 per month, and that no teacher has been employed for, or had charge of, any of the schools of the districts during the year who had not at the time a valid certificate. The old form of oath did not compel them to swear that salaries less than $35 per month were paid.

A Simple Remedy for Acquiring Hard Muscles and a Sound Body.

A number 12 bore gun when loaded with three drams of powder will send a load of shot further and shoot harder than if double this amount of powder is used.

If too much powder is need, all of it will not explode until it leaves the muzzle of the gun.

That portion which does not explode at the proper time, interferes with the direction, and checks the velocity or force of the shot.

Hard muscles and a strong body do not depend on the quantity of food, but on its perfect digestion and proper assimilation.

If the nutrient properties of all of the food that may be eaten are appropriated by the blood and tissues, the muscles of the body will grow harder and stronger, whether you eat much or little.

You may be well, but not strong. What you want is strength,—physical force.

You do not have to be sick to need Kodol Dyspepsia Cure.

Thousands of men and millions of women have need for just what Kodol Dyspepsia Cure will do for them.

A little Kodol after meals, will enable the stomach and digestive organs to digest and assimilate every atom of all of the wholesome food that may be eaten.

It will do more.

It will enable the stomach to extract from the food all its nutrient properties, and contribute the same to the blood.

It will enable the blood to circulate freely and deposit a full quota of this tissue-building and strength-giving material into every nook, corner, muscle and fibre of your whole being.

The result is perfect strength.

And perfect health.

Disease cannot lay hold on the man or woman whose physical condition is thus fortified. Recommended by Green's Pharmacy Co.

New Meningitis Mystery.

Dr. Edwin Fischer, a wealthy physician of Pittsburg, has been asleep five weeks, and it is feared that he will never waken. An operation of trephining has been performed, as a desperate measure, to save him, but the attending physicians have little hope that he can be aroused.

When Dr. Fischer fell asleep his collapse was attributed to overwork and the strain of anxiety concerning several important cases in his care. He was given every attention and brother physicians and specialists consulted. No diagnosis of the case, however, could be made without an operation.

There are no indications of paralysis, for the patient could feel, move and speak. Several times he was awakened for a few minutes and answered questions intelligently. In one of these brief lucid spells he vouchsafed the information that he believed that he had contracted cerebro-spinal meningitis from one of his patients.

The operation of trephining was performed by Dr. Beck Carl of St. Mark's hospital, New York, and it enabled Dr. Carl Emerling to diagnose the case as meningitis, but of an entirely different nature from cerebro-spinal meningitis.

Sang His Way to Freedom.

James Reilly, a bright lad of 14 years, whose home is in Richmond, Va. was arrested Tuesday at Bayonne, N. J, charged with being disorderly. Arraigned before Recorder Lazarus, the boy's good looks and frank expression attracted the court's attention. In reply to questions the boy said:

"I left my home to travel with a circus, where I sang in the side show. I tired of that life and came to this city to get work. I was promised a job Wednesday at the borax works."

"Give us an exhibition," said the court "If you sing well you may go free; but if you don't, look out."

In a voice remarkable for sweetness and power the boy sang a sentimental ballad, while pedestrians halted to listen, and city hall clerks hurried to the door.

"You have sung your way to freedom, and may go, but take care of yourself and avoid drinking," said the court, delighted.

A Good Word for Old Maids.

By little and little the age when woman marry is growing later and later to the vast benefit of the race. Old maids are merely women in advance of the times, and, heretofore, they have been martyrs to a senseless prejudice,

The world is beginning to appreciate the worth of its childless mothers, and when it does it will place a statue to Venus Virgo on as high a pedestal as Venus Genitrix has ever occupied.

Next to mother love what affection was ever so tender and disinterested as that of the maiden aunt? Next to the sweet companionship of a wife what comradeship is so dear as that of a maiden cousin? Who is the gentlest of nurses, the purest and safest of advisers to the whole family? It is the sweet-faced old woman who is a mother to all because she never had a child to narrow her affections.

A Laughing Plant.

There is a curious plant that grows in Arabia and is known by the name "laughing plant." This name comes from the fact that anyone who eats its seeds cannot control his laughter. The natives of the district where this funny plant grows dry the seed and reduce them to powder. A small dose of this powder makes those who eat it act very much like the foolish people who drink more liquor than is good for them. The soberest persons will dance, shout and laugh like a madman and rush about, cutting up the most ridiculous capers for an hour. At the end of this time the reaction comes. The dancer is exhausted, and a deep sleep comes upon him. After a nap of several hours he awakens with no recollection of the antics he has performed.

A Revelation.

If you will make inquiry it will be a revelation to you how many succumb to kidney or bladder troubles in one form or another. If the patient is not beyond medical aid, Foley's Kidney Cure will cure. It never disappoints. Sold by C. M. Parrish.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Don't Know it.

How To Find Out.

Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or setting indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; if it stains your linen it is evidence of kidney trouble; too frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

What to Do.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in 50c. and $1. sizes.

You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful discovery and a book that tells more about it, both sent absolutely free by mail, address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper.

BRIEF MENTION

Short Items of Local Interest Gathered By The Way Side

—The Arch-Deaconry of Williamsport met in St. Paul's church, Bloomsburg this week.

—The International Association of Chiefs of Police will meet next year in Hot Springs, Ark.

—Mrs. John Walker has been ill for the past week with tonsilitis at her home on East Linn street.

—W. Harrison Walker, Esq., delivered the annual Memorial address at Hublersburg Saturday afternoon.

—We are in receipt of an invitation to attend the 35th annual Commencement of Ursinus College at Collegeville, Pa., from June 4th to 7th, 1905.

—A little son was born on Sunday morning to Mr. and Mrs. Edward S. Erb at their home on South Spring street. Accept our congratulations.

—Mrs. M. I. Gardner is just about recovered from the sprained ankle she received while attending the Knights Templar Conclave at Williamsport.

—Dr. T. C. Van Tries, of North Spring street, is beautifying his property with a coat of paint, which improves the appearance of it very much.

—Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Teaman, of Willowbank street, are the proud parents of twins, a boy and a girl, that were born to them on Friday morning last. Their many friends are showering them with congratulations.

—At the Decoration services at Pleasant Gap Tuesday afternoon J. Perry Wood Esq., of Passadena, California, delivered the address. He is a son of Rev. J. A. Wood Jr., pastor of the Methodist church of this place.

—Through the kindness of Mrs. Custer, widow of General Custer, the distinguished cavalry leader who lost his life in the Little Big Horn fight, the war department is about to receive the table on which General Grant wrote the terms of surrender of General Lee's army at Appomattox Court House, April 9, 1865.

—The Lutheran congregation has secured the services of Dr. Sieber, the Evangelist, as a supply, to preach for them until a minister has been secured for the charge. There are several applicants and a choice is likely to be made in a few weeks, and Dr. Sieber has kindly consented to bridge over the intervening period by filling the pulpit.

—Bishop Darlington arrived in Bellefonte this morning for his first visit to the Episcopal congregation of this place. The service will be at 10:30 a. m. at which time the class will be confirmed and the Bishop will preach. This evening there will be a reception from 8 until 10 o'clock in the basement of the church to which the pastors of all the other churches in town, their congregations and the general public are cordially invited.

—M. I. Gardner has had plans completed for an extensive improvement of his property on the corner of Howard and Spring streets. He will tear away the old Rankin house on the corner, build an addition to the old Logan engine house, encase the whole building with brick and convert it into a double dwelling house. This will compel the school board to hunt some other place for the accommodation of the Midway schools, but it will be a great improvement on that corner.

—Commencment week at the Bellefonte High school opened very auspiciously Sunday evening with the baccalaureate sermon delivered to the class of 1905 in the Methodist church by Rev. J. A. Wood Jr. The church was crowded and it was a proud moment when the young graduates, seventeen in number filed in and took seats reserved for them. The sermon delivered by Rev. Wood was an excellent one and abounded with bright thoughts and sound advice for the young people about to embark on the tempetuous sea of life. There was special music by the choir which added to the evening's enjoyment.

—The Methodist church was crowded on Sunday morning to listen to the Memorial sermon to the Gregg Post, Grand Army of the Republic, delivered by Rev. J. A. Wood, Jr. The church was crowded with interested listeners. The old soldiers marched in and occupied the front seats and many remarked how the ranks of the boys in blue are gradually thining. Rev. Wood took his text from Exodus 12th chapter and 14th verse, "And this day shall be unto you for a memorial; and ye shall keep it a feast to the Lord throughout your generations; ye shall keep it a feast by an ordinance forever." Rev. Wood delivered an excellent and eloquent sermon and especially impressive was his tribute to the southern soldier. To the boys in blue he paid a tribute not only to the dead but to the living.

—Major Clifton R. Breckenridge has resigned his position as a member of the Dawes commission.

—The national convention of the Royal Arcanum will be held next year at Old Point Comfort, Va.

—Morgan Treat, of Richmond, Va., has been appointed United States marshal for the eastern district of Virginia.

—The New Jersey board of pardons has refused to commute the death sentence of Guiseppe Maimo to life imprisonment.

—The meeting of the Bellefonte Ministerial association has been postponed from Monday, May 29, until Monday, June 5.

—Twenty-five New York firemen were painfully burned by an explosion of celluloid while fighting a fire in a comb factory.

—While seated at the supper table, Edward Butz, aged 44 years, of Allentown was chocked to death by a morsel of meat which lodged in his throat.

—Margaret Caldwell, aged 11, of Salona was one of the $5 prize winners for essays on the Betsy Ross Flag House in the third drawing book series offered by the Philadelphia Record.

—St. Louis artists will have a comprehensive exhibit of Missouri art at the Lewis and Clark Exposition, as an offset to the general belief that Missouri produces mainly apples and army mules.

—Localities desiring the farmers' institute should send a representative to the meeting to be held in Bellefonte Tuesday, June 13, at which place and time the places for holding said institutes will be selected.

—The Illinois building at the Lewis and Clark Exposition is a replica of the home in which Abraham Lincoln lived while a resident of Springfield. This property is said to have been the only real estate the martyred President ever owned.

—A conference of scientists, nurserymen and fruit growers was held in the Governor's private office last week to discuss ways and means for fighting the San Jose scale and other tree destroyers. The State has appropriated $30,000 to fight the scale.

—Mrs. Rosemary Glosz Whitney, one of the most popular of western soprano soloists, has been engaged to sing at the Lewis and Clark Exposition during the month of August, as soloist with Dierke's band, which has been engaged to give concerts during that period.

—The Massachusetts building at the Lewis and Clark Exposition has as its distinguishing feature a replica of the famous Bullfinch front of the old State House in Boston. When the State House was rebuilt, Massachusetts went to the expense of $3,000,000 to retain this front.

—Dr. Hayes of Bellefonte, has taken into partnership Dr. David Dale of Curwensville. Dr. Dale has purchased the half interest in the Hayes property on Spring street, and the commodious brick house where the Doctor has resided for many years will be turned into a Sanitarium.

—George Jamison, a brother of the Clinton county murderer who is still at large and one of 11 brothers who have terrorized the vicinity of their homes since early youth, was arrested at his home in Allenwood, Union county, recently, for shooting game out of season and killing insectivorous birds. He was obliged to pay a fine of $20 which he did rather than go to jail.

—Frank Hall, manager for John L. Sullivan, is negotiating with the authorities of the Lewis and Clark Exposition for space on The Trail, the amusement street of the Fair, where wax figures of men whom the twelve-years champion knocked out will be shown, with the winning punch indicated in each case. The former champion wants to spend the summer in Portland and plans to give boxing exhibitions. He would like to get into a fight with Charley Mitchell or Tommy Burns.

—The Lewis and Clark Exposition, to commemorate the exploring expedition of Captains Meriwether Lewis and William Clark, which added 307,000 square miles of territory to the domain of the United States, will open June 1. President Roosevelt, at Washington, will press the button and the great chimes in the United States Government building will peal the stirring strains of America as the opening signal. The people of the Pacific Northwest have spent five million dollars on their fair and it will be ready on time.

—Arrangements are nearly completed for the thirty-ninth annual State encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic to be held at Reading on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, June 6, 7 and 8. It is twenty-five years since the last encampment was held in Reading and all interested were anxious to make this encampment the most enjoyable and successful ever held in the state. About 3,000 Grand Army men are expected as delegates and to participate in the parade. Mayor Gerber will make the address of welcome and Past Commander-in-Chief Thomas J. Stewart will respond. Past Department Commander Thomas G. Sample will preside. The parade will take place Wednesday, June 7, at 9 a. m., under the direction of the chief marshal, Major Milton A. Gherst, of Post 42, Lebanon. The business meetings will be held in the academy of music on Wednesday and Thursday.

—Building operations at State College are very active and promise to continue so during the summer.

—Capt. Henry Montgomery is back on the police force as a supply, owing to the illness of Amos Mullen.

—The second annual reunion of the Yearick families will be held Tuesday Aug. 15, at Hecla Park.

—Mrs. Wilkinson entertained about eighty of her friends "to a tea" on Thursday afternoon from three until six o'clock.

—The Junior Oratorical contest of the High school students for the Reynolds prize was held in Petrikin hall Monday night.

—The third annual gathering of the Shaeffer—Hazel families will be held at Grange Park, Centre Hall, Wednesday June 14th.

—Mr. Jared Harper has purchased the stock of the Harper Bros. grocery store and in the future will conduct the business himself, as he used to years ago.

—Bishop Garvey, who sailed for Italy Saturday May 20th, will present to Pope Pius X, a draft for $3,471.41, as an offering from his spiritual children of the Altoona Catholic diocese.

—J. W. Houser and his two sons, Charles and Abram, are busily engaged on various painting contracts at State College. They are first class workmen and have no trouble in finding plenty to do, —When the stage girls read that Nan Patterson was no sooner acquitted than she was engaged for the stage at $2,000 a week, they should recall the fact that she only missed electrocution by a very small margin.

—One of the troubles about choosing the lesser of two evils is that you can't tell which is the lesser until you've made the choice, and then you always find out that you have got hold of the greater.

—Brigadier General John A. Wiley has announced that the Second Brigade encampment at Erie July 15-22, would be known as "Camp C. S. W. Jones," in honor of the late Captain of Sheridan Troop.

—The woman who can make good butter, darn socks to a frazzle, cook a meal that tickles her husband clear to the waist band, and keeps the children's neck and ears clean, seldom figures in a divorce case.

—Rev. Robert Fleming Wilson who has been stated clerk of the Huntingdon Presbytery since April 11, 1893, died suddenly with heart failure, Wednesday morning at Mann's Narrows, Mifflin county, Pa.

—John Stewart Crossy, known throughout the theatrical world as J.C. Stewart, one of the "Two Johns" the famous fat men of the stage, is dead at the home of his son, Dr. Butler B. Crossy at St. Louis, Mo.

—John Noll has been awarded the contract for erecting the foundation for the soldier's monument and Curtin memorial. Work will be commenced in about two weeks. It will be completed in time for dedication next fall.

—County Treasurer Philip D. Foster is busy these days superintending the erection of his new houses at State College. He has completed two double brick houses and now has in process of erection another double brick dwelling. These houses are modern and up-to-date in every particular.

—The Alpha Fire company, of State College, have broken ground for their handsome new home which they are about to erect on McAllister street. It is to be a two story brick building 60x32 feet. It will be up-to-date in every particular. Irvin Holmes is chairman of the building committee.

—The Pennsylvania Railroad solicitors have filed remonstrances against the granting of liquor license to two applicants in South Altoona and one in East Altoona. They saw that these communities are composed of railroad men, and that the safety of the public demands that they have clear heads.

—The unusual spectacle of three generations of one family being laid in one grave was witnessed at New Philadelphia recently, the corpse being those of Enoch Balulis, his son and little grandchild. Enoch was killed by an explosion o dynamite, and his sudden death hastened that of the others who were ill.

—A doctor in New York is treating an obstinate case of hiccoughs with ice cream. If the remedy is successful an alarming epidemic of hiccoughs may be expected to break out among the fair sex this summer, and the summer man may see to it that the doctor aforesaid is thoroughly and effectively vituperated with all the modern improvements that the language allows.

—While playing "Wild West" at the farm of his grandfather, near Milton, on Monday afternoon, George, the six-year-old son of Richard Bordner of Northumberland, was dragged by a furious heifer until he was nearly dead and is now in a precarious condition. He lassoed a vicious young heifer and had one end of the rope tied around his body. The heifer started on a rampage and dragged him nearly a mile and stopped only when she became exhausted and was unable to go any further. The boy was bruised and battered over his entire body and was unconscious for five hours.

—Clement Dale Esq. delivered the Memorial Day address at Pine Hall on Tuesday.

—George Reeder, of Milesburg, and Miss Eliza E. Sones, of State College, were quietly married Wednesday morning at ten o'clock by Rev. W. B. Cox at the Evangelical parsonage on Willowbank street.

—Bert Meek, the druggist at State College, has commenced the erection of a new house at State College. His brother Ben Meek is also about to commence the erection of a brick dwelling in the College town.

—The wedding invitations of Miss Mary Carman Ryan and Frank Derland Houck, youngest son of Rev. W. A. Houck, have been issued. The wedding will take place in the First Presbyterian church, Williamsport, on the 7th of June.

—The interest in the High school exhibit is increasing each day as the exhibit is open. Tuesday between five hundred and six hundred people visited Petrikin hall to see the work of the pupils. All those who have seen it express their highest praises.

—D. A. Boozer, of Centre Hall, and W. T. Speer, of this place, were the victims of pickpockets while attending the Knights Templar Conclave at Williamsport on Tuesday. Mr. Boozer lost about $5 while Brother Speer was minus $4 and his railroad ticket.

—Rev. A. S. Baldwin, presiding elder of the Danville district, Central Pennsylvania M. E. conference, is in the Methodist hospital in Philadelphia for treatment. His ailment has been diagnosed as cancer of the lower bowel and his condition is reported to be serious.

—Benjamin Chapman, of Curtin township, was bitten on the hand by a rattle snake Tuesday afternoon while at his work on Eddy's Run. He was attended by Dr. McGee of Mill Hall, and Wednesday at 8 o'clock was admitted to the Lock Haven hospital. His condition is very critical.

—Many farmers and truckers are replanting some of the early vegetables destroyed by the recent frosts. According to the accounts of the truckers the early beans, peas, potatoes, etc., in many localities were entirely destroyed and will have to be replanted, which will make the home produce in the green goods line scarce during the first part of the season.

—An interesting feature of the High School Commencement will be an exhibition of the work of the High school students, which will be shown in the large room in Petriken hall opposite the offices of Dr. Musser. This exhibition will include the drawings of various kinds the work of the various students in botany zoology, mechanical engineering, chemistry, etc.

—They tell this on a young fellow who expects to be married in the happy June time, and went to see the preacher for some pointers the other evening. He inquired of the dominie with much hesitation: "Is—is it kisstomary to cus the bride?" The preacher said that was sometimes done, he believed, but hardly ever begun so early as the marriage ceremony.

—James T. Steele, 52 years old, who has been telegraph operator at McVeytown, on the Pennsylvania railroad, for the past 35 years, was stricken blind at the key Monday morning shortly after going on duty. He felt a sharp pain pass through his head and then all was dark. Physicians say the affliction is due to neuralgia of the optic nerve and they are unable to predict whether or not he will regain his sight.

—In the office of District Attorney Thomas H. Hudson, at Connellsville, Pa. is a ladies' shoe, the hollowed heel of which, it is said, contains enough dynamite and nitro-glycerine to kill a number of persons. Mrs. Lulu Engle, of Uniontown, Pa., found a pair of lady's shoes in her back yard. While examining them she discovered that the heel of one had been hollowed out, four exploding caps placed on four iron pegs set in and the hole filled with waste soaked with nitro glycerine. The shoes were turned over to the authorities, who are making a rigid examination.

Mrs. Evans of Brookville, Pa., sister of the late John T. Johnson, is visiting Mrs. Mary Ann Johnson at the latter's home on West Linn street. She is accompanied by her grandchild. It is 53 years since Mrs. Evans left Bellefonte, although she has visited here several times. She was born in the house now occupied by Andrew Bell on East Howard street.

Christopher D. Young left on Tuesday for Washington, D. C., where he will remain for a week enjoying the sights of the Nation's capital, one of handsomest cities on this continent. Mr. Young is Sechler & Company's right hand man and will be remembered as the winner of the Popular Employee Contest which was conducted last fall by the Republican and Daily News. Mr. Young is taking this trip to Washington as the guest of this paper and we join with his many friends in wishing him a pleasant and safe journey.

A Handsome Building.

Our neighbor the Democratic Watchman is showing signs of its well deserved prosperity by having their building repaired and repainted. The cornice work has been repaired and the entire building, brick work and all, repainted so that it presents a very handsome and attractive appearance. They have also erected a brick annex in the rear, in which they will instal a Fairbanks gasoline engine for running their machinery and doing away with the water motor formerly used for this purpose.

Senator Meek has also had his beautiful home on West High street repainted in an attractive manner.

Married.

At the Reformed parsonage, Friday afternoon May 26th, Mr. Harvey Fulger, of Zion and Miss Mazie E. Liddick of Axe Mann, by Rev. Ambrose M. Schmidt.
